Poetical.

A Toronno Scient.

Massachusetts, stood by the bedside of a fair young boy, of some sixteen years, sick in the Patent Office. Hospital. He raised his dying eyes, looked at her intently and then whispered with a pathos impossible to be described — offs that my mother?" His tonething look and tone melted all who shood around the content of the whole partial with a pathos impossible to be described — offs that my mother? "Its tonething look and tone melted all who shood around the content of the whole shood around the content of the whole should be bridge she got to the content of the whole partial which is a fair to the prince. It don't mind betting she won't done for the whole partial dropping it,' quoth Sherry. 'She will,' replied the prince. It don't mind betting she won't done for the whole partial dropping it,' quoth Sherry. 'She will,' replied the prince. It don't mind betting she won't done for the whole partial dropping it,' quoth Sherry. 'She will,' replied the prince. It don't mind betting she won't done for the whole partial dropping it,' quoth Sherry. 'She will,' replied the prince. It don't mind betting she won't done for the whole partial dropping it,' and the prince and confidence which excited the administration of the whole partial dropping it,' quoth Sherry. 'She will,' replied the prince. It don't mind betting she won't done for the prince in the pri ears. Mrs. Mary A. Denfson, who was present at the time, wrote the following tender verses on the incident:

IS THAT MY MOTHER

Is that my mother bending low With her cold hand upon my brow ? And those my mother, spitying eyes? I dreamed of her but move; Sweet mother! it indeed is low To have you bless your daine boy!

The red rays of the setting sun-Were streaming through the half. And creeping with a fading light Along the slicht wall, Where many a brave heart throbbed in pain! And pined for home and friends assin,

One soldler boy, a fair young hal, The pet of some dear home, Smiled, as a gentle face bont low. And asked thus pather come? Like balm the hope, like Heaven the thought God-sent, a proment's bliss it brought.

She pressed the clinging tooks away From his young brow and fine But the faltering voice had conches his a heart Too tenderly to bear-Her quivering lips could scarcely tell She was not her he loyed so well,

Ah, brave young boy, thy precious dus-Enshrined in memory
We'll keep for aye—a hely trust,
Then child of Liberty! Though thy death-brow in a far off had May ne, et be present by a mother's hand.

Oh! women by your chronical homeball Oh! woman wan and area There's many a motherty footbilliand Where your kind steps would go; And many a soldier boy has died Thinking his mother by his side.

THE PERSONAL APPEARANCE OF JESUS CHRIST.

The following description of the personal appearence of the Savior purports to be the translation of a dispatch from Publius Lentidus, President in Judea, to the Roman Senate, the original of which is preserved in the Vatican at

"Conscript Fathers: There lath appeared in these our days and is at present living amongst us in Juden, a man of singular virtue whom they call Jesus Christ. Of the Jewis he is no-cepted and believed to be a great prophet of truth, but His own followers or desciples adore Him as being descended from the immortal Gods. He ra seth the dead r ad healeth all manner of human makalies and diseases by His word or touch. In stature He is tall, and of perfect symmetry of form. His countenance and air sweet and revereed, such as the beholders may both love and fear—His hair is of a color that would be difficult to describe accurately—something resembling the rolor of the ripe chesnut from the crown of His head to his cars, whence downward it is more orient of tint cans, whence now award it is more orient or time or golden hate, and falls warring and carling in to ringlets, and spreads itself in graceful prefu-sion on his shoulders. In the centre, from the forchard to the crown of the head His hair is parted by a scan or partition, and falls over each ear, after the manner of the Nazarines. His forchead is lefty and pale, and His face without spot or wrinkle, beautified with a slight tinge of conacty complexion. His nose and mouth are formed with the most affinished symmetry. His heard is thick, and of the same symmetry. His beard is thick, and of the same color of His hair, not of any great length, and dividing in the centre at the chin, takes nearly the form of a fork. His look innocept and mature, His eyes blue brilliant, and screnes. manner, His eyes blue brilliant, and sevenely beautiful.—In representing He is a wful and majerile, in admonishing courteous, sweet, fried M. ly, and persuasive juddin specking or acting He is grace, temperated modest, and wise. It cannot be remembered and any have seen Him weep. In a word, He is man who, by His exceeding great beautiful His Divine, perfections, surpassed, the great of men. The following anecolor of Pope Pinst X. As at related in a monthly region condition.

The following speculota of Pape Pans (X) is styles follows. Charles, cut and timmed submout rerelated in a monthly review certified Le Mondal

FISHY BETS.

In an article on the notorious Reindeer ber

case, Field tells the following annealote:

It is reported that one morning when Sheri dan was invakibeting at Carlton House, the Prince and his guests, lunnging at the window after the meal, were attracted by the appearance of a very hand-once girl who came along A day or two ago Mrs. Maynard, of Natick, the Mall hearing a basket of crockery upon her Massachusetts, stood by the bedside of a fair head with a degree of grace and confidence report be no liar, the astate manager of Drury Lane was seen in conversation with the crock ery weach-one of the hallet girls of his theare dressed up for the occasion-and handing her a fifty point note. 👉

WANTS SUPPLIED.

A good man shall have what he needs, not always what he thinks he needs. Providence intends the supply of our necessities, not of our desires. He will satisfy our wants, but not our wantonness. When a thing is not needful, a man caunor properly be said to want it; when it is needful, a good man shall not be without it. What is not bestowed upon as may not be so beautiful af that time wherein we desire it for every thing is beautiful in its season. that did not want God's kindness to renew him dull never want God's kindness to supply bine His hand shall not be wanting to give witero His heart both been so huge in working.

LET YOUR LIGHT SHINE. . *

H is related that when Lord Peterborough, stayed for a time with Foncion, he was so deflighted with his piety and aniability, that he exist claimed at parting. "If I remain here much longer I shall become a christian in spite of my-state of the work of the precision of the prec self." What a testimenial was that I and what a mighty power would our churches exert in the world, if the members generally were accustomed thus quietly to "shine" in their every lay, spheres of life. — Clari-tim Secretary.

SECTIONALISM.

One of the principal evils that lie at the root of all our national establishment, is, and has been, since we commenced as a nation, the in fraternal spirit of sectionalism. This is, per haps, and might have been expected from the beginning, to be inseparable from a nation running through every variety of climate and soil, to a common standard of policy was, to say the least, exceedingly difficulty. But, nevertheless, from whatever cause it may avise, sectionalism has been the bane of our Union, and hence of par prosperity. "United we stand, and dividtry in the world. Sectionalism was the mon of Andrew Jackson, and sought to dismember our ever glorious Union.

It is the spirit of sectionalism, more than any other thing that now underlies this wicked reit is the unity of the South alone, that has enabled them to contend so long as they have, against the fearful odds of numbers, and means which they have had to encounter. It is because they are of one heart and one mind, that willed from a lot raised by Mr. Howland. One of of courage, and to endure, uncomplainingly and When we consider that 80 pounds, is considered with undinching perseverance, all the priva- good mettor, those above noticed will pass for ed upon to endure, besides facing death at "the whole. Tuy Account on Yestermay .- The end accident of yesterday has terminated fatally as we feared and predicted. Miss Swan died yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock, and death, in this case was a messenger of mercy to release a poor sufferer from the most agonizing tortures. Mr. and Mrs. Swap, her parents, are very badly burned in the and made up of interests whose reconciliation bands and arms, and Mr. Swan is very much uffected by the terrible disaster, so that his system is shattered, and it will prove to be a long time ere he can recover physically or mentally his wonted health.

While noticing this accident we notice two methods of restraining a fire upon the person, for ed we fall," is a saying that more truly applies the benefit of others who may be unfortunately to these United States than to any other coun-[placed in circumstances of danger. The first suggestion is to lie down instead of remaining in an ster that reared its threatening head, in the days upright position, and to roll the body over until the fire is mothered. Another suggestion is that fire can instantly be brushed from a person's clothes that may be all in a blaze, by using a broom. Take a broom, stand off from the person who is on fire, lift the broom above the head, bring bellion against the Union. On the other hand, it down quick, and it will take all the fire off. This is a valuable suggestion and worth - remembering

Our Army Correspondence. FROM THE 12TH R. ISLAND REGIMENT.

Point Luckout Jan, 1 1863. Dear News :-- Being in an out of the way place and taking up a Rhode Island, paper (the Press) for the first time I saw the following lines.

"From various sources the report seems to be sell confirmed that with the exception of three companies and perhaps portions of other compan her latest generation--the principles of equali-les, the 12th Regit took to their heels and carned ty, freedom, industry, enterprise, and the the reputation of being the first Bhode Islanders who have shown the white feather,"

In the first place this is utterly false, and the man that wrote it ought to be ashamed of himelf, he is no truo Bhode Islander, or he would not send such a flying report home to min the reputa. Mr. Wilson also reported back a bill in relation tion of one of the best Regiments that Little to bounders of volunteers in certain cases, which Rhody has sent out.

There were only two companies that were not o the field, and those where from the Northern part Mr. of the State and the officers refused to lead them

No one can doubt the bravery of the Newport hays for they took the lead and was the first company of the 12th on the field, and Lieut. George H. Taber was at the head of the company, he acted like a hero and he is honored and loved by the whole company.

We don't donb; the bravery of the gallani Lieut Abbott, but the boys that supported the colors where (Co. D. 1 don't want to say too much about our own company, the whole regiment with the oxceptions of the two companies, before named behaved bravely.

PROM PHILADILPHIA.

Philadelphia, Jan. 8.

In the course of his remarks last evening Gen.

Butter referred to the excession of Muniford as an act of the high Executive responsibility which in performance of duty became pair fall. Meter referring to the incidents of the day he said: The flag of the United States was raised upon the Eriked States Mint and after floating there a short time was deagged down by a drunken gandler in the MANPACCIPICA of the second states of the minute of the mi presence of the fleet in broad daylight. The sym bol of our Nationality which we all reverence was torn in shreds by every one that could tare off a piece as a trophy. That not in its consequence might have been most calamitous. The commands of the federal fleet had a right to suppose that th Mayor of the city had come to the canclusion to tenew the contest and the symbol of that renewawas the tening down of the dag. It might, as a military proposition, have brought upon the city instant bombardment (applause.) But through the ery proper caution of Commodore Furragat a shot or two was fired and no re-pouse made mark you If was not the fault of Minoford, that New Orlean was not laid in ashes and men, women, and children chrushed Leneath the shells of the folleral fleet It was in mercy for the town that we should take reprisal hereafter and that it was necessary to panish Manuford according to the just laws of war. After the confession of guilt whether rightly or wrougly (applause,) I have been betrayed into saying more than I anticipated, (cries of good - go ou) I look upon the escapalge in the South West as substantially ended. The reliefs exempting was to concentrate all their forces on Resecrans and atier defeating him to concentrate against Gen. Grant and relieve Vicksburg and afterward. In n osin New Orleans. We have not yet quite ap preciated that noble and brave sublice. Gen. Rusecrans and his great victory at Marfreesboro, (applance.) If there is anything a soldier desires more han anything else it is that his fame nobly wonton the battle field even if he lend his troops to the charge himself shall be cherished by his rellarountrymen, Subsequently Gen. Butler was erenaded and at the solicitation of the crowd athered outside made a few remarks in reply to the compliment.
